

Accessibility Policy

Last Updated: November 11, 2024

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to outline the Digital Research Alliance of Canada's ("the Alliance") commitment to providing an environment that is inclusive and that is free of barriers based on age, race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, sex (including pregnancy and breastfeeding), gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, record of offences, marital status, family status, and disability, through meeting its obligation to provide employees with reasonable accommodations, whether temporary or permanent in nature.

2. SCOPE

The provisions of this policy apply to all Alliance employees, contractors, members, visitors, volunteers, applicants, consultants, interns, co-op students, clients, and any other individual in an employment-like relationship with the Alliance. It also applies to any other party that provides services, and/or facilities on behalf of the Alliance.

This Policy applies at all stages and to all aspects of the employment and/or working relationship, including but not limited to, recruitment and selection, promotions and transfers, and conditions of work and/or agreement. In the event that any provision of this policy is found to be inconsistent with the provisions of an agreement, the agreement will prevail, unless the Policy provision is required by law, in which case the Policy provision will prevail.

3. POLICY

3.1 Principles

The Alliance demonstrates the concept of accessibility by fostering an environment that treats persons with disabilities with respect, and follows these guiding principles:

- Dignity: providing service in a way that ensures self-respect and the respect of others by maintaining the Independence and free participation of persons with disabilities.
- Independence: ability to engage with the environment on their own, without unnecessary help or interference from others.
- Integration: providing service in a way that allows the person to fully benefit from the same services, in the same place, and in the same or similar ways as other persons.
- Equal Opportunity: having the same chances, options, and benefits to achieve the same results as others. In the case of services, it means that the individual has the same opportunity as others to benefit from the services provided, without needing significantly more effort to access or obtain services, nor accept lesser quality.

The Alliance is committed to treating people with disabilities in a way that allows them to maintain their dignity and independence. The Alliance believes in integration and is committed to meeting the needs of people with disabilities in a timely manner, by taking steps to identify, eliminate, minimize, or prevent barriers to accessibility. The Alliance recognizes that barriers include physical, environmental, attitudinal, interpersonal, communication, and technological components that may prevent the full participation of and equal opportunity for persons with disabilities in the Alliance community.

3.2 Legal Framework

Where needed, the Alliance will also provide customized emergency information to help an employee with a disability during an emergency. The Alliance's performance management, career development, and redeployment processes will consider the accessibility needs of all employees.
